The School of Criticism and Theory at Cornell University 2019 Summer Session

The Humanities Institute at Stony Brook is pleased to announce the availability of one graduate fellowship for Cornell University's School of Criticism and Theory for the summer of 2019 funded by HISB. The SCT is a six-week summer institute that has existed for more than 30 years and provides the opportunity for graduate students and faculty members to take seminars with some of the world's leading critical theorists. The SCT provides an unparalleled opportunity for advanced training in critical theory and for making connections with an international cohort of peers and world-class scholars.

This summer's SCT will take place on June 16–July 25, 2019.

Students interested in applying for the HISB-funded Fellowship must submit their application through HISB. Do not submit any materials directly to Cornell.

Applications will be vetted by a committee comprised of HISB faculty board members.

The deadline for consideration for the 2019 HISB-Funded Fellowship is Thursday, December 13, 2018 by 5:00 pm (EST) to The Humanities Institute at Stony Brook, 1013 Humanities Bldg, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY 11749-5354 (campus zip = 5343).

Please provide hard copies of the following items for your application:

1. A statement of no more than two pages describing current scholarly interests and plans and how the School of Criticism and Theory might further those interests and plans. The statement should include information about courses taken and/or taught in criticism and theory.
2. Two confidential letters of recommendation (in sealed envelopes)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. A sample of recent writing (general guideline is 20 – 30 pages, double-spaced)
5. An official SBU transcript
