Participate in SBU Research

Dr. Lauren Richmond, Assistant Professor of Psychology at Stony Brook University and head of the Cognitive Aging & Memory Lab, is actively recruiting for two (2) new research studies that require community-based participants! One study involves viewing health-related information, and the other involves viewing tweets and news headlines.

Participants will be provided with on-campus parking and will receive monetary compensation for their participation. Please consider volunteering for either or both studies!

To learn more about the health information study, please reach out by phone at 631-632-7679 or by email to cogagingmemorylab@gmail.com

To learn more about the tweets and news headlines study, please reach out by phone at 631-632-7997 or by email to rr_labs@stonybrook.edu.

If you'd like to sign up to be contacted about future studies that you may be eligible to participate in, please sign up for the Stony Brook University Department of Psychology Older Adult Participant Pool by filling out this form.

Dr. Elinor Schoenfeld is Seeking Unpaid Caregivers for Older Adults to Participate in a Research Study on Technology & Aging in Place.

Researchers from the Stony Brook University College of Engineering and Applied Sciences and the Schools of Medicine, Nursing and Social Welfare are seeking volunteers age 18 and older who are unpaid caregivers of adults age 60 and older to participate in a research study looking at the role of sensor technology to help older adults remain in their homes safe and healthy.
