*Students may apply courses from the Advanced Graduate Certificate (AGC) program toward a Master's degree concentration, provided student is matriculated concurrently in both programs and the academic department administering the Master's degree confirms approval. The Master's degree is a separate application: go to: www.stonybrook.edu/spd/graduate for details about the Master degree programs offered through SPD and information about How to Apply. Concurrent matriculation and completion of coursework requirements for both programs allows the student to earn two credentials at the same time: a Master's degree and an Advanced Graduate Certificate.

Statement of Student Responsibility

SPD students themselves—whether new, returning, or continuing—are responsible for reviewing, understanding, and adhering to their degree and/or certificate program requirements. All SPD students are responsible for reviewing, understanding, and complying with University and SPD regulations, policies, and procedures, as described in all official publications, and as published on the University website, www.stonybrook.edu, and the SPD website, www.stonybrook.edu/spd, including, but not limited to, SPD's online student references, the SPD Bulletin and each term's SPD Academic Calendar.
